BID FOR STRICTER BAN ON VEHICLES IN TOWN CENTRE

Excusive report by David Simister

A TOTAL ban on vehicles from pedestrian zones in Ormskirk town centre for large parts of the day could soon be introduced after a surge in reports by shoppers of near accidents.

Lancashire County Council is currently working with the borough council on proposals to further restrict access to the town centre for motorised vehicles.

It follows calls for Ormskirk Community Partnership is calling for stricter enforcement of restrictions on vehicles and a total ban in the central area for several hours during the day claiming drivers currently treat the area as a 'free for all.'

The group claims hazards are caused heavy goods vehicles making deliveries to shops, customers of banks parking up, and drivers who ignore the 'no entry' signs. Irene Slack, secretary of the Partnership, told The Champion: "It's a free for all at the moment with some drivers taking their vehicles right through pedestrianised streets.

"Allowing cars, vans and lorries to drive across or park in the central streets is dangerous, particularly for children and the elderly. Several near misses have occurred recently and we feel it is a case of 'an accident waiting to happen.

"One proposal to limit vehicle access in the central area from mid morning till mid afternoon would enhance the shopping experience and encourage footfall as well as complementing the work of the Love Ormskirk group and the forthcoming highway improvements in Moor Street."

Lancashire County Council is working with the borough council to address the partnership's concerns, and added that it is working on proposals to restrict access to the town centre for motorised vehicles.

A spokesman said: "We are working with West Lancashire Borough Council on making improvements to the town centre, and are developing proposals to restrict vehicle access at certain times of day to improve the shopping experience for pedestrians.

"As part of this we're looking at how any restrictions would work in practice and could be enforced, and how to manage access for market days and businesses who need to take deliveries."

Ther could soon be a total ban on vehicles in the town centre.

Council tax to be frozen in borough

Report by Henry James

RESIDENTS in West Lancashire will see a slight decrease in their total council tax bill this year.

The total council tax bill for an average Band D property (excluding parish council precepts) will be £1,486.25 compared to £1,505.43 last year.

The borough council has frozen its council tax for the fourth successive year and has announced schemes it says are aimed at regenerating the economy and protecting the environment.

Councillor David Westley, portfolio holder for resources, said: "With the difficult financial climate we appreciate that many families are going through hard times, so we have decided there will be no increase in our Council Tax again for the fourth year running.

"West Lancashire Borough Council has seen the lowest percentage increase in council tax in the last 12 years of any of the 12 districts in Lancashire.

"We must reduce our spending and improve our income generation as the government is reducing our funding while many costs are rising.

"But with forward planning and prudent financial management we have been able to save money without reducing services. This also means we can introduce new schemes to benefit the people of West Lancashire.

"These include setting up a scheme to fund up to £1million of improvements to our commercial properties, which include industrial units and retail units in

Blue recycling bins to replace boxes and more cash for clean–up projects

Report by Henry James

Skelmersdale. This aims to create jobs for West Lancashire by attracting new businesses to the area and encouraging existing ones to expand."

The council has also agreed to invest £360,000 in a new blue recycling bin scheme. A pilot scheme will be launched to give people the option of having a blue wheelie bin for recycled waste to replace the current blue box.

Another £100,000 has been earmarked for spending on improving drainage at Abbey Lane playing fields. These are popular with local sports clubs but they have been unable to use the pitches since last September due to flooding. This money will be used to attract external funding to help bring the pitches back into use.

A further £50,000 per year has been agreed to continue the council's business engagement officer post for the next two years. This person will work with businesses to encourage and support the recruitment of apprentices.

The funding also allows the council to take on an apprentice to work with the business engagement officer and by contributing to the Challenge project, will be able to support other organisations to do the same.

The West Lancashire Challenge project has seen 153 apprentices start in its first 21 months. The target had been for 50 apprentices to start over two years.

Other budget decisions include:

• £90,000 for environmental improvements and clean–up projects. The money will be used to tidy up round the Skelmersdale bandstand, on improvement works by the River Tawd, to provide a new entrance feature for Richmond Park in Burscough, and for works on a footpath in Banks.

• £50,000 for works aimed at preventing flooding on roads and underpasses in Skelmersdale over the next three years

• £24,000 for improving the area in front of Skelmersdale War Memorial

• No increase in parking charges on pay and display car parks for 2013/14

• Some other fees and charges will increase in line with inflation e.g fees for sports pitches, pest control and licensing charges

Traders hail the town's new website

Report by David Simister

Love Ormskirk directors including MD Katie Givens (centre) along with Sean Gibney, Nick Mussell, Matt Middleton, Lesley Armstrong, Geoff Dermott, Rachelle Atherton at the launch of their new website.

ORMSKIRK'S high street traders have lent their backing to a relaunched website which highlights efforts to breathe new life into the town centre.

Supporters of the Love Ormskirk campaign gathered at the town's O2 mobile phone store at a ceremony to officially mark the launch of the revamped website, which is part of a series of efforts to spearhead interest in the town centre and the work being carried out by traders and residents. In a statement on the website, the campaign's organisers state: "Love Ormskirk give the local community to opportunity to communicate their opinions related to high street in Ormskirk, to get involved and assist in making a difference.

"We have formed a strong relationship with the council who strongly support the work that we do.

"Our aims and objective are to increase footfall into the town and entice new exciting business start ups to bring the buzz back to Ormskirk. Ultimately, we want to survive, stay strong, create a nicer environment in which to shop, make it easier to shop, live and work and bring the community closer and working in harmony."

The new website carries details of high street traders based in the town, events which may be of interest to West Lancashire, and details of business opportunities among other information.

Council being treated as 'stooges' by developers claim residents' group

Report by David Simister

WEST Lancashire Borough Council have been treated as 'stooges' by developers over the Local Plan, claim a residents group.

Aughton Residents Group, who fear it could lead to 200 homes being built on green belt land near the village were invited to speak at the public examination hearings into the West Lancashire Local Plan.

They said they believe the council has misled residents during its handling of the plan, which suggests where development could take place across the borough between now and 2027.

The group says the council had acted as "stooges" for developers by incorporating the scheme into the council's 'Plan B' development scheme for the borough. In a statement given to the hearings, Aughton Residents Group member Colin Atkinson described the developers as "illusionists" as they are going to "make a large area of Aughton's prime green belt land disappear and then turn it into a housing estate."

He added that residents had been distracted by attention being focused on what is going on in Burscough. He said: "West Lancashire Borough Council, their stooge, has helped them by already giving in to pressures and declaring the Parrs Lane – east and west – sites are suitable for future development and recommending its release from the greenbelt."

Ormskirk resident Ed Dickinson, meanwhile, who has also spoken at the hearings, accused the borough council of undermining its Plan A for future development – which focused largely on Ormskirk – in favour of its Plan B, which focuses largely on Burscough, by downplaying a report by one of its own advisors higlighting the benefits of locating development in Ormskirk.

He told The Champion: "The people were not advised of the Scott Wilson Associates report that it considered Option A the best option for the local economy. In almost every respect, Option A would be the better choice for major development and the council's preferred option of Burscough has proved extremely unpopular with it's residents."

Mr Dickinson said the public should be given a further opportunity to express their views before a decision is made.

West Lancashire Borough Council declined to comment on the criticism.

Friends pay tribute to 'wonderful, lovely Karen'

Report by Henry James

Karen Simpson.

DOZENS of people have been paying tributes on social networking sites for Burscough mother of three, Karen Simpson, who was found dead last week, with many saying how much they will miss her.

Police found the body of Mrs Simpson, who had been suffering from postnatal depression, last Wednesday in a field off Marsh Moss Lane in Burscough, ending days of searches for the 31–year–old, who went missing from home on the morning of Sunday, February 24 after a shopping trip.

Dozens of residents had joined police in the search after desperate pleas from her family.

One message states: "To a dear friend Karen, Your smile would brighten any dark day, Your laugh would chase the tears away, Your heart would bring love to share, Your friendship would show how to care."

Another wrote: "Goodnight and God bless my lovely friend.

"We will miss you so much, especially your infectious laugh!

"You were the light and life of any party and everybody loved having you around!

"Devastated to have lost a wonderful friend like you, keep the sun shining for us. RIP Karen." Another wrote how they were still feeling numb about her death but stated: "You may be gone but you will never ever ever be forgotten!" while another said it was a "tragic ending to such a short life."

Residents have also been signing a condolence book at Burscough Methodist Church.

Thieves pushed stolen ride–on lawn mower along railway track

Report by Lynda Roughley

If train had come along there could have been a 'catastrophe'

THIEVES who stole an expensive ride–on lawn mower were spotted bizarrely pushing it along a railway track.

A policeman called to reports of suspicious activity heard voices and peering over a railway bridge was stunned to see what they were up to, a court heard.

Colleagues arrived to help and when they went down to accost them the four thieves fled into the darkness but one of them, Gavin Groves, was found hiding in undergrowth by a police dog handler.

Jailing Groves, a heroin addict since the age of 14, a judge told him that their behaviour could have had "catastrophic consequences."

Liverpool Crown Court heard that fortunately passenger trains only use the single track line between Kirkby and Wigan between 6.15 am to 7.30pm and the incident, which happened in a quiet rural area, occurred shortly after 4 am.

However, the line is used at other times for training drivers and Recorder Abigail Hudson told Groves, "You are extremely fortunate a train did not come along and cause a catastrophe."

She pointed out that as well as stealing the lawn mower, which was damaged beyond repair, from a nearby farm Groves and his accomplices had broken into a Network Rail hut cutting cables and causing £57,000 worth of damage.

Groves, formerly of Birbeck Road, Kirkby, is currently serving three years for a burglary committed shortly after the incident and the judge sentenced him to a total of 26 months to run consecutively.

Andrew Scott, prosecuting, told Liverpool Crown Court the alarm was initially raised by Dorothy Sephton who realised the £700 lawn mower had been stolen from a barn at her Coach Road Farm in Bickerstaffe.

It had been manhandled down the nearby railway embankment and was being pushed along the track towards Kirkby.

The incident caused delays to trains later that day.

Groves, 35, pleaded guilty to endangering safety of public on the railway and two burglaries.

Kate Morley, defending, said that while serving his current jail sentence Groves has remained drug free and his focus is his teenage son, with whom he had been building bridges before his arrest.

Floral tributes to pensioner after car park tragedy

Floral tributes at the scene of the tragedy in Wheatsheaf Walk car park.

Report by Henry James

FLORAL tributes have been laid at a car park in Ormskirk after pensioner died following a tragic accident.

Edward Weston, 71, died of his injuries after the incident which happened just after 11.30am on Thursday, February 28 on the Wheatsheaf car park. It is understood that the driver of a Skoda Octavia lost control of the car while pulling out of a parking space.

The pensioner became trapped between the vehicle and a wall and suffered significant chest injuries. He died later in hospital.

An investigation is now underway into the incident and police are appealing for any witnesses to contact them.

Sergeant Finn Quainton from the road policing unit said: "This is a tragic incident and I'd appeal to anybody that witnessed this collision who hasn't yet spoken with police to come forward.

"Specialist family liaison officers are supporting Mr Weston's family."

Anyone that witnessed this collision should contact Lancashire Police on 101.

Protest groups slam fracking guidelines as a 'PR move'

GUIDELINES drawn up to oversee shale gas drilling operations in the UK have been slammed as 'presentation over substance' by local anti–fracking groups.

The United Kingdom Onshore Operators Group (UKOOG) has, for the first time, published industry guidelines covering best practice for shale well operations in the UK.

UKOOG chief executive Ken Cronin, said the guidelines "demonstrate a commitment to comply with relevant legislation and best practice while Government energy minister John Hayes welcomed them as a way to 'to ensure all operations are carried out to the highest possible standards and the environment is fully protected.'

Opponents of fracking, however, claim it will do little to reassure residents concerned about the safety of shale gas activities.

Ribble Estuary Against Fracking, said: "The guidelines are just the industry claiming it can regulate itself. There are no legal requirements for compliance or independent inspectors. There is no monitoring and no mention of how flowback is processed.

"It's all about presentation over objective substance. This will do little to convince the public that the process can be made safe."

Plans for 100 new homes resubmitted

An artist impression of how the development would look.

By David Simister

A PROPOSAL to build more than a hundred new homes in Banks will be discussed by councillors tomorrow night (Thursday).

Plans by Redrow Homes to build 115 homes on land near to Greaves Hall Avenue in Banks will be discussed by the borough council's planning committee at a meeting starting at 7.30pm at the council's headquarters in Ormskirk.

A similar application last year stalled after the local authority failed to reach a verdict in time.

Last year, Redrow submitted a similar set of plans for the same site, and launched an appeal, which is still ongoing, after the local authority failed to reach a decision within the allocated eight week deadline.

In a statement submitted as part of their latest planning application, Redrow Homes state: "There is a clear need for additional housing to be delivered in West Lancashire.

"Much of the housing proposed by the council is constrained by infrastructure issues. As a result it is submitted that in line with national policy deliverable sites should be brought forward.

"The application represents sustainable development and can be brought forward immediately utilising existing infrastructure."

Jumping for joy!

MEMBERS of a trampoline club in West Lancashire are jumping for joy after they were awarded a prestigious accreditation certificate by the sport's governing body.

Momentum Trampoline Club, which operates in both Ormskirk and Skelmersdale, said they are now officially accredited by Gym Mark, the governing body for gymnastics clubs across the UK, which they said they hoped would showcase their credentials and attract new members.

Club spokesman, Carlos Ferra, said: "I believe this will be a great news for the community because not only have we been awarded the acceditation for Ormskirk, but our Skelmersdale venue as well."

To find out more about the club's activities visit bit.ly/15sDQYY or give them a call on 07772 334039.

County council cash boost for voluntary groups

Report by Henry James

VOLUNTARY groups that work with young people in West Lancashire are to receive a financial boost.

The groups will receive a share of the £40,256 after Lancashire's cabinet member for young people, County Councillor Mark Perks, agreed the recommendations of the county's youth councils.

Voluntary organisations registered with the county council can apply for funding for projects that promote and improve the economic, social and environmental well–being of their area.

Among the groups to benefit from the funding are:

• Parbold Christchurch Youth Group. The funding of £700 will be used to subsidise an annual weekend trip to Min–y–don centre in Mid Wales.

• Skelmersdale Action for Youth (SAY). The funding of £500 will be used to purchase turf boards (which is similar to a snow board but for use on grassy hills) to take young people away from the housing estates and getting into the outdoors by going to the Beacon Country Park.

• Outdoor Network. The funding of £1,750 will be used to purchase Adventure Insurance Scheme and Transport costs. The programme consists of an expedition or activity for example, a mountain bike camp, a bush craft, boat building day, a caving expedition, and a mountain day.

• The 51st Ormskirk Scout Group (1st Up Holland Scouts). The funding of £900 will be used for training costs of two Scout leaders. They will be able to achieve a Scout Association Adventurous Activity Permit to lead young people's group into wild country over 500m altitude.

County Councillor Perks said: "I am reminded of the dedication and commitment volunteers show day in, day out. They work tirelessly with young people to help them to develop their hobbies and explore new interests."

Dog found close to death rescued by animal charity

Report by David Simister

A DOG which was found close to death on the moss near Tarleton is being nursed back to health by volunteers at a West Lancashire animal sanctuary.

Woodlands Animal Sanctuary, based in Holmeswood, took in the small black cross–bred dog, which they have named William, after he was one of two dogs found abandoned in the countryside by a walker on Sunday, February 24.

A Woodlans staff member said: "Luckily for William one of the Woodlands Animal Sanctuary volunteers was flagged down by the lady who had discovered the pair and they were taken to the vets immediately.

"Fortunately this meant William was able to receive treatment straight away. However, very soon it became clear his back leg was so badly broken that it couldn't be saved and he had to have an operation to remove it.

"William is now on the mend and staying with foster parents until he is well enough to go to a new home.

"We are desperately appealing for information to how the dogs got to the moss and sadly we are forced to believe they were probably abandoned.

"Woodlands does not normally deal with dogs but has taken William under its wing as it was such a special case and so local to the shelter."

The sanctuary has been supported by Gregson Lane Dog Training club in Houghton who have helped to pay for the dog's operation.

William is now being looked after by volunteers at the animal sanctuary.

The trustees at the sanctuary expressed ther gratitude to Rufford Veterinary Group for their "fantastic care of William, without which he wouldn't have made it through."

It was too late to rescue the other dog found by William's side, which had already died as a result of its injuries.

Volunteers praised William's devotion to his canine friend, and said the had stayed by the other dog's side until they were both found and rescued.

Woodlands Animal Sanctuary is appealing for more information about how William came to end up abandoned, and for funds to help his recovery.

If you are able to help, go to www.animalsanctuary.org.uk.

Play area with design chosen by children opens

A PLAYGROUND created with the help of Burscough's youngsters will be officially opened at a ceremony at 1pm today (Wednesday).

Pupils at Lordsgate Church of England Primary School gave a helping hand with the play facility at Pickles Drive, as they told the borough council which of the designs on offer for the site was their favourite.

Councillor David Sudworth, portfolio holder for leisure, said: "I am sure the new play area will prove very popular with the children.

"Residents told us what they wanted here and I am delighted we have been able to provide it."

Funding for the £45,800 project were raised by the local authority through developer contributions from nearby housing sites.

6 March 2013 Vol 20 • Issue 10 www.champnews.com

Stronger than ever!

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAMPION'S MD

I am proud to work alongside the Champion team and very proud of their success and the awards they have achieved. It is their commitment and determination that inspires me and, with their support, I am delighted to announce that very soon you will see another edition of the Champion on the streets.

I would like to thank everyone who plays a part in the success of the Champion each week including all our distribution staff. And finally, a sincere thank you to our readers, advertisers and suppliers for their continued help and support over the years.

In preparing the pages for our 19th Anniversary edition we are excited about reaching this milestone. We are just as enthusiastic and dedicated as we were in 1994 when we launched our first edition.

Since then your Champion has consistently defied the odds and bucked all the trends. Not only have we survived as an award-winning community newspaper but we have thrived as a local business creating many jobs and supporting the communities we cover.

We are proud to reflect on our success and the amazing results we have achieved over the past 19 years, not least of which is becoming Free Newspaper of the Year 2012. In this team photograph readers can see that we have enjoyed another successful year with many more awards and accolades to our credit. In fact, 2012 has been our best ever year.

The global recession and the migration from print to web has forced many publishers to close or merge titles, to cut circulation and reduce paginations but not your feisty Champion. We have done the opposite. We have increased our titles from three editions with a coverage of 72,255 to seven titles and a circulation of almost 163,000. We know of no other publishing group that can equal this progress during the same period.

So what is it that sets the Champion apart?

For us it's all about quality and quantity – the quality of content and the quantity of coverage.

The right quantity is essential. We believe there is little point in having the best local news stories if nobody sees them. Therefore our distribution efficiency has always been a number one priority. We now have 843 dedicated people who deliver over 162,000 copies of the Champion in all weathers and conditions. Their rounds are back-checked every week for efficiency and audited every six months for independent verification.

As for quality of content, the Champion editorial team really enjoys the cut and thrust of breaking local news stories and are not afraid to tackle the issues effecting the lives of our readers. Our stories are diverse, interesting and informative and we are known for our determination to stick with a story until we uncover the facts.

All news in the Champion has the credibility of being professionally "edited" to ensure it is accurate, fair and objective. We are at the very heart of the community as a trusted, reliable and impartial source of information.

However, what really sets the Champion above all the others is our ability to generate successful results for local advertisers. As a free newspaper our income is totally dependent upon the results we generate for advertisers.

Without doubt and without contradiction, when it comes to generating results for local businesses the Champion is by far the best.

Part of the award-winning Champion team that brings you your newspaper every week.

Holy Cow! Vintage clothing firm's design idea takes off

Report by David Simister

TWO fashion–loving cousins in Skelmersdale who used their love of cows as inspiration to set up a clothing retail company have attracted global attention.

Beccy Tipton, 26, who formerly worked for Skelmersdale charity Twinkle House, and Jade Geoghegan, 30, a former carer, joined forces last November to set up a company which capitalises on their passion for fashion by selling vintage clothing, which they source not only from the internet, but also their own wardrobes.

Beccy Tipton, co–founder, told The Champion: "Bovine Vintage was conceived in November last year by two cousins inspired by their love of vintage and customised high street.

"But why the name 'Bovine' you may ask – simply because, we adore cows!

"Always aspiring to be unique, our trademark is the use of masks and headwear to disguise our models and produce the element of mystery.

"Although still a newborn in age, Bovine has a great following and customer base on Facebook, shipping as far and wide as Australia and New Zealand. Our family creation is going from strength to strength."

The pair collect and customise vintage and retro clothes, including from their own extensive collections built up over many years, and sell them on to fashion–conscious consumers, and design their own artwork and stage fashion shoots in West Lancashire locations to help promote their distinctive clothing.

A masked model trying out one of the quirky outfits.

The pair have drawn on Beccy's experience of travelling, particularly in Australia, to help provide inspiration for the clothes they offer.

The family–run firm has already attracted more than 600 likes on Facebook, with enquiries coming in from across the globe. Bovine Vintage will be one of the fashion specialists displaying at the Southport Clothes Show, held at the resort's floral hall on Saturday, March 24.

To find out more about Bovine Vintage find them on Twitter by looking for @BovineVintage.

Entrepreneur handed business boost grant

Report by David Simister

A SCARISBRICK entrepreneur is the 50th person in the North West to have been given a government grant to boost his business, it has been announced this week.

Jordan Boynton, who runs West Lancashire firm Cerberus Chemicals, which manufactures chemical products for companies across the UK, has been given the support as part of the regional Start Up Loan programme, a £110m national government programme which aids young people going into business.

Mr Boynton, 22, said: "When I was deciding what kind of business I wanted to set up I thought long and hard about what industries have a big influence on me as an individual – what did I come into daily contact with at home and at work?

"The majority of things within a home or business come in to contact with a chemical or two at some point so I knew this was an industry that had huge potential.

"After almost a year spent researching and setting up relationships with suppliers I took the plunge and decided to invest in a relatively large amount of chemical stock. We began with manufacturing steam room milks and due to the research were able to provide a top quality service and unbeatable product. This in turn led to us very quickly picking up some of the top hotels and spas in the UK as clients."

Nationally more than 1,000 loans have been given to young entrepreneurs setting up their own businesses, and in January additional funding for the scheme in Lancashire was announced.

David Cameron, the Prime Minister, said of the scheme: "This clearly demonstrates the ambition and drive people in this country have to create a business and I am pleased that Start–Up Loans are helping more and more entrepreneurs who start small but think big transform their ideas into viable, growing businesses.

"I am on the side of people who want to work hard and get on in life, and it is by backing aspiration and the businesses of tomorrow, as well as the businesses of today, that we are equipping the UK to compete in the global race."

Young people aged 18 – 30 can email info@BFSstartuploans.co.uk or visit www.startuploans.co.uk to learn more about the Start Up Loans and register.

i-lipo is the latest in laser lipolysis, offering you a way to achieve inch loss and body contouring with no pain, no needles and no down time.

The i-lipo uses a low level of visible red laser light to stimulate the body's natural processes that empty the stored fat contents inside fat cells.
The laser light absorbs into individual fat cells in the treatment area, temporarily opening pores in the cell walls through which the cell contents can escape. This does not affect the neighbouring structure such as skin, blood vessels and peripheral nerves. The contents of the cells are collected by the lymphatic system and transported to the areas of the body where they can be metabolised into energy during exercise. This metabolism of the contents permanently removes them from the body leaving smaller fat cells and giving you inch loss.

Pupils check in for chess success

Chess players at Aughton St Michaels Primary School hold up certificates marking their latest success. Code NA

TALENTED chess players at a West Lancashire school are celebrating week after making it to the latter stages of a national tournament.

The Champion previously reported how youngsters at St Michael's Primary School, Aughton were enjoying the school's long–running chess club. Now some of the young players have qualified for the semi finals of the National Primary Schools' Chess Tournament.

A spokesperson for the school said: "The school annually hosts a qualifying round of this competition which sees schools from across the region competing against one another and each year for the past 15 years St Michael's teams have qualified for the semi–finals held at Pontins in Prestatyn."

The club has also previously entered a series of tournaments organised by Lancashire Chess, which has seen pupil Rachel Cass winning £1,000 as one of the country's top young players, while Lauren Cornwell picked up £155 in prize money after defeating her rivals.

Run by Year Six teacher Ian Hughes for the last 15 years, the club is held during lunchtimes and after school with regular Saturday coaching by Steve Lamb from Lancashire Chess, assisted by two former pupils Rachel and Natalie Cass both of whom are England junior internationals.

Hospital car park fines are unfair

I, like letter writer V Young, was recently issued with a parking ticket at Southport Hospital.

I can fully sympathise with her for parking in a disabled bay when no other spaces were available, but unlike her I am a registered disabled person.

For the first time in a number of years I did not display the blue badge (my fault) and was fined.

I do not understand that having paid for parking (I had a weekly pass) these 'officials' are allowed to issue fines for £100/60 when the same offence, if committed on the public highway, incurs a fine of £60/30.

Name and address supplied

Council staff could use Co–Op Bank car park on Sandy Lane

The decision by the council to make Sandy Lane car park a pay and display location will lead to disastrous results for the people, businesses and health centre of Sandy Lane.

The big parking problems only arose at Sandy Lane when the council occupied offices and transferred certain departments and staff from Ormskirk to Sandy Lane.

The volume of staff vehicles increased so badly the public tried to find alternative parking in side roads and also they parked on a grass bedded area that is now badly scarred.

I don't think the council have studied the consequences pay and display will have on businesses and its staff.

I believe that some businesses may deteriorate so badly they will close. There is a solution. There should be alternative parking for the council staff.

There is a vast car park only half used at the Co–Op Bank across the road from Sandy Lane car park.

If the council can make arrangements with the Co–Op Bank to transfer their staff vehicles to the Co–Op car park, this would relieve the problem of parking at Sandy Lane.

There would then be no need for pay and display at Sandy Lane and the garden beds could be established and Sandy Lane could be brought back to the decent car park it was before.

Councillor Barry Nolan,
Skelmersdale North borough councillor

Snow poses hard choice for headteachers

I partly agree to the letter 'Snow Never Stopped Me Going to School' in the Champion but I have to say I also disagree. Unfortunately these days headteachers have many more things to deal with than just kids not wanting to attend school on snow days!

Many teachers live a considerably further distance away from their work places now than they used to.

How are they supposed to get to school to teach when the snow is so bad?

Also, some parents have to cope with children attending two different schools.

When one is off and the other has to attend, the parents may have to make the decision to have both the kids off school on the one day as some parents have to work to earn money.

So when teachers who have travelled on a hectic journey to work, what happens if only half of the children in their class have turned up to be taught?

Would you teach them the original planned lesson?

When would you teach the other half of the class so they could catch up on things they have missed?

What about the modern day culture of suing?

The school premises may not entirely be safe for pupils to attend, and headteachers have to take much more health and safety factors into account these days so as to avoid even the most minor accidents.

So whilst I agree it is a considerable problem that schools shut on even the most mild of snow days, I can see it is a difficult decision for those who have our children's best interests at heart.

I think we should remember this next time.

Ormskirk resident,

Get your people out and start banging the drum!

The Eastleigh by–election result in favour of the Liberal Democrats was a foregone conclusion, but what was surprising was the fact that UKIP came second.

What annoyed me was that the Labour Party did not seem to be bothered whether they recorded any votes at all!

There are only two years before the next General Election, and it's time Labour started making a move and creating a strategy if they want to be regarded as serious contenders to the Con–Dems.

So, come on Ed Milliband, get your people out there now!

And start banging the drum.

C Grogan,
Skelmersdale

It's only fair that rich should pay mansion tax

Labour leader Ed Miliband is right to demand a vote in the House of Commons on a tax on mansions.

With the economy struggling, wages and frozen and millions of people unemployed everyone should be doing their bit to help Britain's economy recover. The money would be used to re–introduce the 10p tax rate for lower paid workers – helping them out in difficult times.

This is right – everyone should paying their fair share.

Taxi drivers always helpful

I was very upset to read that a local disabled man is unhappy with the Aughton taxi service because on occasions taxi drivers have refused to take his dog.

I too am disabled and on certain occasions I realise that my demands are higher than most. Taxi drivers, however, have always been very helpful.

I too have a dog, and often I need shopping carried to my door (lots of it) and I need to be dropped right outside my destination.

I am epileptic and on one occasion a driver even assisted me whilst I had a seizure which must have been scary.

I would understand if a driver refused to take my dog because they cannot have dog hairs on their seats or worse still mess.

I would like local people to know that we have an especially good local service and we should be proud of this.

Janet Ingman,
Aughton

Focus on Tarleton

Tarleton is a quaint village between Southport and Preston and is known for its beautiful countryside and rich good quality soil.

It has been reported that a local family with the Tarleton name either named the area themselves or were given the naming as a gift way back in the 13th century.

The River Douglas runs northwards to the east of the village, and it is thought to be where the Viking camped on the river banks.

This farming paradise is buzzing with activity and many vegetables and salad crops are grown each year and sold locally or shipped out to supermarkets all over the region.

With a farmers market full of local produce every week and many good quality restaurants and cafes it is the perfect place to enjoy a day out. With its neighbouring village Hesketh Bank only down the road and the town of Ormskirk eight miles away it is easily accessible.

Mark Square is the hub of the village and is the home of Tarleton Library and many local shops and businesses, all of which offer a one to one service in an attractive environment.

Tarleton is also home to an award winning craft shop The Stampers Gallery which offers everything you need to make your own cards and scrap books. It also has a huge range of rubber stamps from a variety of brands, perfect if you are looking for something slightly unusual.

The shop has won Craft Retailer of the Year twice and owner Sue, who has run the shop for 13 years is extremely proud of this accolade.

TARLETON ACADEMY
FACIMUS NOSTRAE FUTURAE

The past year has been incredibly exciting at Tarleton Academy, particularly as The Academy is enjoying a much closer relationship with the community. In the summer there was a celebration of the school's 50th birthday and Christmas events included the Senior Citizens Christmas Party, a carol service at Holy Trinity church and a prestigious visit from Peppa Pig and Santa at the Christmas Fair.

The school also welcomed Mums and Tots to a coffee morning in aid of Macmillan's nurses, which was in addition to the many fundraising events for International Aid Trust, with the school nearly half way to its target of raising £20,000 to build a school in Sierra Leone.

Use of the facilities including the sports hall and swimming pool has also increased, ensuring the school is vibrant all hours, including the addition of a youth club.

Walks are not much fun when I'm one man without a dog

DISASTER!

For the last week it's been largely one man without his dog.

Tina picked up something in her nearside front paw and started to chew at it. She wasn't completely immobilised, she would in fact walk a goodly distance between sitting (or lying) down to have another go at it.

Trouble was, I couldn't see any sign of damage apart from a small amount of black goop in the hairs between her toes.

Having snipped this out I hoped it would be business as usual – but the periodic biting and licking went on.

So it was off to the vet. He found a tiny puncture wound in her pad.

The problem was whether whatever she had trodden on was still inside her paw – which would mean a small operation to investigate what it was and hopefully remove it.

Anyway, he gave me some antibiotic tablets and an appointment for a week's time. If she was no better, it was the small operation for her. And in fact that was yesterday (Tuesday) so by now I'll know the worst – or best.

Hopefully, as you read this she will firmly be back on all four feet.

But I have learned from this rather worrying event, just how much I have come to rely on my Tina.

Yesterday for instance I needed to visit someone in Lydiate to chat about the deplorable state of a grass verge.

It was less than two miles from my home, and normally I would have taken Tina for her afternoon walk at the same time.

This being out of the question I walked alone. And hand on heart, that two miles was the longest I've walked in many years.

It was in fact roughly half the distance of one of our regular walks, but it really felt miles further. No hairy companion to talk to.

And instead of discussing my forthcoming boating holiday with her, I spent most of the walk worrying about how my canine friend was doing.

It is hard to explain the bond that genuinely grows up between you and a dog.

It's a very special relationship that cannot be compared with any human bond with another human.

I'm not saying this bond is stronger or better (though in some cases it probably is), it is totally different.

I feel no shame in saying that Tina is my friend (and an awkward one at that sometimes) and that I love every hairy inch of her hairy little body.

And I reckon most dog owners feel the same.

And this present disruption to our daily routine goes to show me what I have suspected for a long time.

That a person (or a man at least) needs if not another person, then a dog before he sets out for any lengthy walk.

Folk accept you – don't give you suspicious stares as you walk country lanes or even the banks of the canal. And of course many other dog walkers stop to chat.

And best of all, you can talk to yourself (or even sing if you wish) without passers by thinking you've gone completely potty.

Tina usually more or less disregards my prattlings to her and rarely answers back – though it has been known.

A dog is, in fact, the best companion I can think of if I wish either to walk through town on otherwise boring pavement, or to escape to the country.

Apprenticeships Week 2013

11th-15th March 2013

What are Apprenticeships?

As employees, apprentices earn a wage and work alongside experienced staff to gain job-specific skills. Off the job, usually on a day-release basis, apprentices receive training to work towards nationally recognised qualifications. Anyone living in England, over 16 years-old and not in full-time education can be an apprentice.

Apprenticeships can take between one and four years to complete depending on the level of Apprenticeship, the apprentices' ability and the industry sector. The minimum salary is £2.65 per hour; however, many apprentices earn significantly more.

Who are they for?

Apprenticeships are open to all age groups above 16years-old whether you are just leaving school, seeking to start a new career or are moving into a new role with your existing employer that requires new skills.

There may be different entry requirements depending on the Apprenticeship and the industry sector. However competition for places with employers can be fierce, so you will need to show that you are committed, and aware of your responsibilities to both yourself and the company who would employ you. You also need to be happy to work as both part of a team and individually, and be able to use your own initiative.

Training

Apprenticeships are designed with the help of the employers in the industry, so they offer a structured programme that takes you through the skills you need to do a job well. There are targets and checks to make sure that your employer is supporting you and you are making progress.

As an employee you will be in your place of employment for most of your time as most training takes place on the job. The rest usually takes place at a local college or a specialist training organisation. You can complete this off-the-job training on day release or over a number of days in a block. The amount of time you spend varies according to your Apprenticeship. It could be anything from one day every other fortnight to two days every week. So all the things you study will be useful in your job and help you succeed in your future career.

Your employment will normally be for a minimum 30 hours per week but may be more. In a small number of circumstances where there is a recognised reason why the apprenticeship needs to be for fewer hours this will be allowed as long as it does not fall below a minimum of 16 hours. When this occurs the actual length of the apprenticeship will then be extended in order that sufficient time is spent to gain the required experience and skills you will need to do the job.

What Apprentices Say

"I'm with Apprenticeships because it's more than a qualification, it's experience too which is more valuable."

Kyle Yeomans
- Apprentice

"I'm with Apprenticeships because I can learn on the job. It's good to be part of a team working on lots of interesting projects. My confidence has grown and I'm earning a wage whilst I train which is an added bonus."

Mitchell Sharp
- Apprentice

"I'm with Apprenticeships because I knew I wanted to go into Business and retail and I love the idea of gaining experience and a qualification at the same time."

Surge in West Lancs tenants opting to buy

Report by
David Simister

WEST Lancashire is being highlighted as one of the areas in the North West where the number of council tenants opting to buy their homes is surging.

A report by the Department for Communities and Local Government published this week revealed that the area covered by West Lancashire Borough Council has seen a 50% rise in the number of council tenants purchasing their homes under the Government's Right to Buy scheme.

Housing minister, Mark Prisk said: "The reinvigorated Right to Buy has opened the door to home ownership for thousands of tenants across the country and I'm delighted to see so many taking up this opportunity.

"But from the 200,000 hits on our website, to the councils that report to me, the surge they've seen in applications, I know there are many more that want to follow in their footsteps.

"I would urge any tenant aspiring to buy their home to contact their council or visit www.communities.gov.uk/righttobuy to find out how they can take their first step onto the property ladder."

The department said that the borough council has sold 15 homes since April 2012, compared to 10 in the whole of 2011/12. West Lancashire Borough Council declined to comment on the issue, but did confirm to The Champion that the figures mentioned by the government department are correct.

Other local authorities in the North West highlighted as seeing as surge in Right to Buy sales going ahead include councils in Wigan, Manchester and Stockport.

Real ale buffs toast local pubs

TWO West Lancashire pubs have been nominated by a group of real ale lovers as their favourite bars in the borough.

Members of the Southport & District branch of the Campaign for Real Ale have nominated the Hop Vine, in Burscough, as their pub of the year, and the Farmers' Arms, near Ormskirk, as their nomination for the branch pub of the year.

Beers at the double!

Report by David Simister

A WEST Lancashire pub has teamed up with a brewery and a brigade of military vehicle owners to create two beers specially for a celebration of wartime machines next month.

The owners of the Heatons Bridge, in Scarisbrick, told The Champion they are working with Burnley–based Moorhouses Brewery to create two beers specially for the Military Vehicle Invasion event being held there on April 12 and 14 in memory of Mark Lancaster, who spearheaded two similar events at the pub but passed away last year.

Two real ales will be on offer, including one called Just Jane, which is named after a restore Avro Lancaster bomber which now has a photo of Mark in the cockpit. A stronger real ale, called Tanked Up, will also be on offer and plays on the connection with the military vehicles being brought by members of the South Cumbria and North Lancashire military vehicle trusts to the pub. Steve Winrow, landlord at the Heatons Bridge, said: "I'm hoping that these two beers will be a hit with visitors to the show, especially as they play on the pub's existing military connections, including our longstanding association with Lancaster Bomber bitter and the World War Two pillbox which we have on the site.

"We're also redesigning our food and drinks menu to have a bit of a military theme on the weekend – chicken nuggets and chips, for example, will be called muck and bullets. It's quite a poignant tribute to Mark, particularly the 'Just Jane' beer and its connections to Mark and the Lancaster bomber."

Both real ales will be brewered by Burnley–based Moorhouses Brewery, which brews several of the beers already on offer at the West Lancashire pub, including the Lancaster bomber bitter.

The event, which takes place on Friday, April 12 through to Sunday, April 14, is free to visit.

For more information send an email to pconnolly@btinternet.com or or call 01704 545786.

Top award for school meals club

Report by Henry James

TEACHERS at a Scarisbrick primary school are cooking up a storm after winning a special award for their contribution towards reducing health inequalities and bringing communities together by teaching people how to cook.

Pinfold Primary School was singled out for praise after launching a new Let's Get Cooking club for fathers and sons using money raised by HealthHeal through The Health Lottery.

The club has been awarded a Golden Spoon gong from Let's Get Cooking after using cooking to involve the wider community in school life and for giving dads an opportunity to bond while learning a new and important life skill together.

Sue Fielding, who helps run the Let's Get Cooking club, said: "Engaging with dads has been difficult at school but offering this special opportunity just for them has made them want to play a much bigger role in our wider school community.

"They've met other dads and you can really see their friendships blossoming as they learn together."

Life changing

"For one dad, Dave Needham, the experience has been life changing. Coming to the club has made him realise that cooking is something he really enjoys, is good at and wants to do for the rest of his life. He's since applied to Southport College to do a level 2 cookery course and has been accepted!"

Maggie Sims, senior manager at Let's Get Cooking, the country's largest network of healthy cooking clubs, said: "Using food and cooking is a natural way to bring people together.

"With Pinfold Primary School, we've seen first–hand how it can help people of all ages, backgrounds and abilities, build relationships and make new friends.

"Learning how to cook a nutritious meal from scratch and on a budget, can make such a difference to people's health, and it's so much more fun when you can do it alongside others."

Pinfold Primary School attended the national ceremony in London where special prizes for the overall Golden Spoon winners were presented by keen cook and teaching champion Kate Bellingham, best known for hosting Tomorrow's World and Children's ITV programme, the Big Bang.

Council puts a block on frozen 'beef' in schools

Report by Henry James

LANCASHIRE County Council has suspended the supply of all frozen processed beef products to schools after tests found more traces of Horse DNA.

The county council chose to test for traces of horsemeat in all the frozen processed beef products supplied to its schools, as well as undertaking work on the national investigation led by the Food Standards Agency.

Council bosses said the large majority of affected products on school menus have tested negative for horse DNA, but now two have tested positive.

The first, reported in the Champion, involved a pre–prepared cottage pie used in 47 schools. The second was a Halal beef burger, which had been available at four schools in the county. All affected schools have been contacted and informed.

Officials at the county council have said frozen processed beef products only make up a small proportion of the menus at schools, with most school meals prepared using fresh beef from a local supplier.

A spokesman for the county council said: "The suspended products were only supplied to secondary schools and around 10% of Lancashire's primary schools."

Leader of the county council, Councillor Geoff Driver, said: "I hope that parents and children can be reassured by the advice that this isn't a food safety issue. However, it is frankly appalling that we have found horsemeat in two products which were supposedly 100 per cent beef. These products came from manufacturers who not only carry all the correct certification but who also recently provided us with written assurances their products did not contain horsemeat.

"In the circumstances, we feel we have no choice but to withdraw all frozen processed beef products as a precaution until the food industry and regulator do something to restore confidence in what people are being fed."

Students' recipe for success

STUDENTS from West Lancashire College clearly had the recipe for success when they organised a Valentine's–inspired fund–raising stall.

The Entry Level students baked cakes and cookies, as well as making cards, posters and gift boxes which they sold on the stall raising more than £225.

As part of their Skills for Independence and Work course the students learned about customer service, communication and cash–handling skills.

Course tutor, Diane Moran, said: "The students have done a fantastic job planning their stalls and they've worked so hard baking cakes and making crafts to sell.

"They've really benefited from the course and this exercise helps them put all that knowledge they've learned into practice."

Proceeds from the day will go towards funding educational trips for the students over the next term.

Which childcare is best for you?

With so many parents both working full time these days the issue of childcare is a major one. There are several options available but choosing the right one for your family can sometimes be a difficult task. Before you make a decision:

- Give yourself plenty of time to choose. Holiday playschemes and other seasonal childcare service can booked up well in advance.
- Make appointments to visit two or three providers to compare what's on offer. This will allow you to look at the services available and chat to the staff.
- Always consider your child in your decision, even if they are far too young to make a choice themselves. Where do you think they would prefer?
- Ask other parents for recommendations
- Check opening times, holiday dates and costs

West Lancs Children's Centres offer access to a range of high quality services to children 0 – 5 and their families including:

- Antenatal bookings
- Antenatal Bump, Birth and Beyond classes with midwives and health visitors
- Baby massage
- Advice on health, nutrition and hygiene

- Activities (indoor/outdoor) to help prepare your child for school
- Family support, Outreach and Parenting advice
- Links with Job Centre Plus and training providers
- Internet access via an interactive computer
- Information about childcare options and facilities
- Play sessions and activities for the whole family e.g. messy play, music and rhyme sessions, dads activities and lots more
- Support for children with additional needs
- Sensory and soft play rooms
- Speech and language sessions
- Childminder network
- Breastfeeding support
- Volunteering opportunities

A warm welcome awaits you at all of our Children's Centres. Just call in or phone any one of the Centres for details of the groups and activities on offer.

What type of services are available?

Private day nurseries

These are open from Monday to Friday and can look after your child between the hours of 7.30am – 6.00pm. They are available for children aged 3 months to five years of age and although they are private, there are several Government schemes to help you meet the cost if you feel you are struggling. All are means tested and funding could be one call away. These nurseries are OFSTED inspected and follow the Governments Early Years Foundation Stage structure of learning.

After school and breakfast clubs

These can be provided by schools or private nurseries and provide care for your child before or after school, or both. Learning is structured and children are always provided with healthy snacks or meals.

Playgroups

Playgroups offer care for your child several times a week usually, for a morning or an afternoon and work in conjunction with the Early Years Foundation Stage.

They can help your child to interact and start learning at an age where they are too young to go to school.

Holiday Play schemes

Children have a lot more time off school than parents have off work and so for those times holiday play schemes can come in very handy. They offer childcare only in school holidays and can help the child develop and learn while making sure they are safe and well cared for.

Questions to ask childcare providers

Directgov recommends you ask the following questions to ask childcare providers:

- Safety – what happens in an emergency?
- Are the premises secure (can strangers get in)?
- What training and experience do the carers have?
- How does the provider report safety incidents to parents?

Salon raises £200 for school

County's work with young offenders praised in report

TEAMS in Lancashire who deal with sexual offences by young people have been praised in a Government report.

Lancashire County Council was one of seven local authority areas visited by inspectors in a report commissioned by the Government into how sexual offences by young people was dealt with.

The Lancashire Youth Offenders team was among the organisations praised in the subsequent report.

County Councillor Mark Perks, the council's cabinet member for young people, said: "Sexualised behaviour among young people is something that workers can find difficult to accept but our experience is that facing these issues in the open and in partnership with other agencies is what works best.

"I am proud that our staff are helping to present the report, and that work from Lancashire is cited as good practice.

"We are always looking to improve our service and will be using the report to help us do this."

Two examples of good practice in Lancashire were cited in the Ministry of Justice's report, one in which agencies worked together to enable a young sex offender to attend college with an 'excellent risk management plan', and another where a Youth Offending Team worker offered support and worked closely with the offender's family.

The report stated that: "In Lancashire, the children's services safeguarding unit had put together a template for risk management plans and offered support to schools to develop appropriate risk management arrangements."

because you're amazing

Thanks to Slimming World Angela is now 'Slim for Good'

West Lancs Slimming World member,Angela Johannessen has lost 2st 7lbs and has kept it off for over a year. And with the help and support of her warm and friendly Slimming World group she now plans to stay Slim For Good.....

"Thanks to Slimming World I have lost 2 and a half stones and I know I can keep it off forever! I have lost weight in the past but have never been as successful and I've always regained it. But with all the help and support I still get from my lovely Slimming World Consultant and the rest of my group. I'm delighted to say not only have I lost the weight but I have kept it off for over 12 months." Says Angela.

"I feel fantastic I have swapped my big baggy clothes for slinky party dresses and skinny jeans. I feel so much happier and healthier.

As a full time working mum of 3, and grandmother to 2 beautiful boys (with twins on the way) I feel so much younger and I have so much energy.

Losing weight and keeping it off with Slimming World has been so easy. I have never eaten so much tasty, filling food and have never once been hungry. There's nothing faddy about eating the Slimming World way, the whole family now eat good healthy everyday foods. And on top of all that I've been able to socialise.

I still attend my group every week. I always pick up loads of ideas, recipes and shopping tips every week. Everyone is so friendly and we really care about each others ups and downs and as Target member I get to attend every week for free, as long as I stay 3lbs either side of my Target weight. I'd never dream of missing a week, I now even help out in group and this is why I'm so confident that this time I can stay 'Slim For Good'!" Adds Angela

Village family farm's crisps get MP's vote

Report by David Simister

A RUFFORD family who make crisps from potatoes grown on the farm they run have treated their local MP to a tour of the site.

Lorraine Fullbrook, who represents the South Ribble consituency, was given a tour of Fiddlers Farm, following praise of the distinctive, Lancashire–themed crisps from her colleagues in Westminster.

Mrs Fullbrook said after her tour: "Fiddler's Lancashire Crisps are a great asset to our local area. What makes this business and their crisps so special is not just the great taste but that from the potato harvesting to the production of each bag of crisps, all is done by the Fiddler family on their farm in Rufford.

"In this age of mass produced products that can travel thousands of miles before it reaches the consumer, it is wonderful to see a Lancashire based business selling a great Lancashire grown product. Fiddler's pride themselves on only using the potatoes grown on their farm and I got to try the crisps which are enhanced with traditional flavours such as Lancashire cheese, Elsey's Malt Vinegar and Lancashire Sauce. They are simply delicious!

"It was great to visit Fiddler's farm and learn about this exciting local business. We may be famous for the hotpot here in Lancashire, but in my view the potato is at its finest here in Rufford, in Fiddler's Lancashire Crisps!" The tour follows the Conservative MP treating her colleagues in the Commons to the West Lancashire firm's crisps, as part of efforts in Parliament to mark Lancashire Day.

Fiddlers Farm, which has been run by the Fiddler family since the 1950s, produce a range of crisps from potatoes grown at their farm, including a Lancashire Sauce flavour. For more information visit www.fiddlerslancashirecrisps.co.uk or call 01704 823 572.

The crisps come in a variety of flavours.

Brighter Future Mobility

Brighter Future Mobility has fulfilled the equipment needs of people with disabilities since opening in 2005. This multi-award winning charity and social enterprise is customer-focused, constantly adapting the range of goods and services they provide to keep pace with ever-changing requirements of the disabled community.

Their main premises are in Skelmersdale, with a shop in Ormskirk, their aim is to enable people to retain their own mobility and independence. This reduces feelings of isolation and social exclusion which many disabled people suffer. In turn, this benefits the local economy, as more money can be spent in local shops.

If you need assistance with mobility or disability matters, this centre for independent living can help with:

- Sales of new and recycled equipment, at affordable costs
- Servicing equipment, including testing of batteries
- Repairs to equipment, helping you retain your mobility
- Recycling unwanted equipment, preventing it from going to landfill
- We are agents who operate the Motability Scheme and will ensure you are with the mobility equipment that suits your needs.

provided

- Issuing Community prescription equipment, ensuring you quickly receive what you need BFM provide useful advice to ensure you make an informed choice about the most suitable equipment, and how to keep it in the best working order. As a charity, any income raised is reinvested to help train young disabled people in their workshop.

Last year BFM opened a shop in Ormskirk town centre; unwanted equipment can be dropped off here and prescription equipment can be collected from here.

They were voted" Best Social Enterprise in the North West" in an award ceremony last Friday at Hilton Hotel, Blackpool, adding to their impressive list of accolades, which include:-

Europe - Best Small Social Firm Of The Year 2010 UK's Best Social Enterprise 2009
England's Best Small Social Enterprise 2009
Best Community Enterprise 2009
Best Recycling Project 2009
Peter Cousins - Community Hero 2009
Ernst & Young – Entrepreneur Of The Year – Finalist 2010
Charity Times – Social Enterprise Of The Year– Finalist 2010 Charity Times – Outstanding Individual Achievement – Finalist 2010

At a Gala dinner on Friday 22nd February Brighter Future Workshop were awarded the North West Social Enterprise of the year 2013. The chairman Peter Cousins said he was delighted to have won this prestigious award, it once again proves that Brighter Future are on a leading edge of social enterprise and has a robust business model that works and is driving us toward expansion and full sustainability.

Care in the community
Simple chores, which we do without thinking, can become the biggest of challenges to some people as they get older. The elderly and vulnerable can find simply getting to the end of each day a struggle and so it is important that they get the right care and help they need. Thankfully, there are people who work day and night in the community to make sure the right help is given and the correct level of care is offered.

There are several types of care available:

Care homes
Sometimes it can be difficult to continue to run your own home, cook and clean and look after yourself, not to mention the bills, which can quickly become too much to handle. Care homes aim take all that worry away from you and will supply the best care so all your needs are met.

Home care service
Sometimes, you still need daily help but the thought of leaving your own home is too much to comprehend. That is when this service comes in which can offer practically the same level of care as you would receive in a care home but without actually having to move out. It can be a few hours a day or even 24 hours a day if that is what is needed.

That is when this service comes in which can offer practically the same level of care as you would receive in a care home but without actually having to move out. It can be a few hours a day or even 24 hours a day if that is what is needed.

Home helps
This is great if there are only certain aspects that you need extra help with. Home helps can come and support you day to day or a few days a week, whatever you feel you need. They will also clean, cook and help you wash so the day to day chores don't seem too daunting. Services are also available which take care of all your bills, leaving you with more time to enjoy life.

Adaptation to the home
Sometimes getting up the stairs, getting in and out the bath or simply emptying the washing machine are not the simple tasks they used to be. If your home is becoming unsuitable there are many adaptations that can be made to it so you can stay in it as long as possible. From stir lifts to adapted baths and downstairs toilets to electric beds and sofas, there is something for everyone.

Meals
If cooking your own meals and making sure you are getting enough nutrition is becoming too much there are meal delivery options available. This could mean a meal is delivered to you every day or sometimes weekly or even monthly. A care professional can determine what service is best suited to you and then the wheels can be put in motion.

Transport services
These services can be very helpful if you find it difficult to get out and about. Provisions can be made so you have access to transport from your doorstep. The reliable pick-up services can help you maintain your independence and allow you to get to your appointments and social events without the worry and cost of taxis and buses.

Recreational and occupational activities
It can be easy to lose touch with friends as you get older and that can sometimes mean social activities can come to a stand still. This doesn't have to be the case as there are many services out there to help you back into the community in the form of games, lectures, games, outings, and help with living skills and even budgeting.

Community Transport
Community transport is a service for members of the public who find it difficult to get around during the day. The Dial – a – ride scheme is one of the main initiatives for providing transport to disabled and elderly members of the community so they can go shopping and use local amenities without having to worry about public transport and taxis.
The free service is door – to - door and the vehicles are specially adapted for wheelchair use incorporating removable seats and lifts.
Each local council has it's own service and if you are interested in finding out more please get in touch with your council office who can give you all the details.

World Glaucoma Week

10-16 March 2013

International Glaucoma Association iga

The IGA is the chairity for people with Glaucoma and, according to its Chief Executive, David Wright FIAM FRSA, “Research suggests that less than a third of people know that glaucoma is an eye condition, with less than a fifth aware that it can lead to blindness if untreated”.

Global initiatives, such as World Glaucoma Week, are therefore invaluable when it comes to raising awareness and saving sight.

If you are over 40, you should have a regular routine eye test at least once every two years to be sure that there is nothing wrong or, if there is a problem, to have it detected at a stage when treatment is most effective.” The IGA’s mission is to raise awareness of glaucoma, promote research related to early diagnosis and treatment, and to provide support to glaucoma patients, their carers and relatives.

It offers free information and advice through its Sightline service (01233 648170) and its website www.glaucoma-association.com.

If it’s diagnosed early, glaucoma is almost always manageable and the outlook is good.

But regular eye tests are essential if the condition is to be caught in time to prevent permanent sight loss.

What is Glaucoma?

Glaucoma is a group of eye diseases that cause progressive damage of the optic nerve at the point where it leaves the eye to carry visual information to the brain.

If left untreated, most types of glaucoma progress (without warning nor obvious symptoms to the patient) towards gradually worsening visual damage and may lead to blindness. Once incurred, visual damage is mostly irreversible, and this has led to glaucoma being described as the "silent blinding disease" or the "sneak thief of sight".

Some forms of glaucoma may occur at birth ("congenital") or during infancy and childhood ("juvenile"); in most cases however, glaucoma appears from the age of 40, and its frequency increases with age. There is no clearly established difference in glaucoma incidence between men and women.

There is no cure for glaucoma as yet, and vision loss is irreversible. However medication or surgery (traditional or laser) can halt or slow-down any further vision loss. Therefore early detection is essential to limiting visual impairment and preventing the progression towards severe visual handicap or blindness.

It would be useful if we all made a greater effort to increase Glaucoma awareness for all of our families, friends, work colleagues and associates. Let us realise the importance of being informed about Glaucoma, especially if it is already in your own family.

And also the importance of regular eye tests. Many eye conditions are first discovered at the opticians, not only Glaucoma. Opticians play a massive role in our health and well-being and are somewhat undervalued. Your eye-care professional can detect glaucoma in its early stages and advise you on the best course of action.

Fun day for rugby at Green Lane pitch

RUGBY–loving youngsters in Ormskirk were among those who mixed a series of a matches with fun activities during a fundraising day recently.

Members of Ormskirk RUFC held an open day at their base on Green Lane, with visitors being treated to not just three different games, but also a hog roast and cake and sweet stalls to help raise funds for the club. During the day the under 14s team played a Blacksticks Cup match against Fylde, the Junior Colts took on New Brighton, the ladies' team were pitched against Preston Grasshoppers, and the senior team had Eccles as their adversaries.

The afternoon concluded with the clubhouse showing that day's Six Nations game.

Ormskirk RUFC players with Sale Sharks full–back Cameron Shepherd who made a star appearance at last Sunday s Family Fun Day at Green Lane. Code1056640

It's that time of year again and Mother's Day is fast approaching. The tradition dates back to 1908 when it was first celebrated by a lone woman named Anne Jarvis who made a memorial for her mother in America. She then started to campaign for a special day devoted to celebrating mothers and Mother's Day was born.

The actual date is not fixed as it falls on the middle Sunday of Lent and so falls on different dates. It has even fallen on different months in the past.

Mother's Day is still celebrated by some by baking a Simnel cake which is a fruit cake layered with marzipan, decorated with eleven marzipan balls.

In the past Mother's Day has also been called some very interesting names. Mothering Sunday, 'Refreshment Sunday', Pudding Pie Sunday or 'Mid-Lent Sunday'.

In Sefton and West Lancashire there are endless options when it comes to celebrating and treating your mum. From restaurants serving high quality, reasonable food to local boutiques and gift shops, to parks and attractions the list is endless and whatever you choose to do, there is no doubt all mums will feel very special.

Ormskirk Theatre Company opens Hindle Wakes show

Report by Henry James

TWO new actors have joined Ormskirk Theatre Company's current production of Hindle Wakes by Stanley Houghton.

Lynn Rees and Emily Grogan can be seen giving their debut performances at Ormskirk Civic Hall from tonight (Wednesday, March 6) to Saturday, March 9 from 7.30pm.

The story is set during Wakes Week in the northern town of Hindle and Fanny Hawthorn, a lively, determined mill–girl, has spent the weekend in Blackpool with her friend Mary Hollins. At least, that's what she tells her parents. In fact, she's been in Wales with Alan Jeffcote, the wealthy mill–owner's son.

When her parents find out, they are determined that Alan should marry her, but Alan, his father, his fiancée and Fanny all have their own ideas on the matter.

Fanny shows a spirit way ahead of her time when she demands to be able to decide her own future.

Tickets are available online at ormskirktheatrecompany.co.uk or by calling in to Brighouse Wolff in Aughton St, Ormskirk.

For more information or to join the society, either as actor or backstage, or to book over the phone call Pat on 01704 809630.

Parbold Chamber Choir lines up Easter concert

PARBOLD Chamber Choir is getting ready to perform its Easter concert later this month.

The concert, which will take place at St Michael's Church, Dalton on March 16, will feature mainly modern music but is based on themes and texts which are centuries old.

The choir will sing Howard Goodall's Requiem, Eternal Light, which was published in 2008. It features the hymn, Lead Kindly Light and the piece, In Flanders Fields.

Starting at 7.30pm the concert will also include Goodall's popular arrangement of The Lord is My Shepherd, which was the theme to the BBC series, The Vicar of Dibley.

In addition, they are performing an Easter meditation, Via Crucis. This piece, written in 1997 by Adrian Self, is said to have a haunting beauty and an appealing sense of spirituality.

Call 01704 821303 or 01772 491121, visit parboldchamberchoir.co.uk or pay on the door.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Never known to fail.

O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, faithful Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity, O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother, O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity.

(Make Request).

There are none that can withstand your powers. Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 Times).

Sweet Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3 times).

Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. J.P.

This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published. 42389

Saint Jude's Novena

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever.

Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us, St. Jude worker of miracles pray for us. St. Jude, helper of the hopeless pray for us. 42385

Say this prayer 9 times a day. By the 8th day your prayers may be answered. Say it for 9 days and it has never been known to fail.

Publication must be promised. Thank you St. Jude

Instructions:
Light your candle and declare out loud what miracle you need right now. Repeat this prayer 9 times for 9 days. Do this at the same time each day, never skip a day. If you do, you need to start over again. On the 9th day give thanks, and say "So be it." Give it up to Saint Jude and let go of any worry. You will see results in 72 hours. Never use this prayer to manipulate or control anyone. Use it only with the best intentions.

This is the most important part of the entire process YOU MUST pass this miracle prayer onto others. Some people publish it in the paper, others e-mail it to their friends, and others post it in a public building.

J.M.

Mersey tunnel myth sunk

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.blogspot.com

The Austin Allegro. Code NA

SQUASHED tomatos and stew, and all that. In case you haven't seen all the birthday–themed graphics at the business end of this week's paper here's the news again – The Champion celebrates its 19th this week.

All of which got me thinking of some of the more memorable motoring anniversaries heading our way this year – there's a bonanza of bashes, for instance, to mark Aston Martin's centenary. There's also the Porsche 911, which is 50, and the Corvette, which storms to 60. A few rungs back down the ladder and you've got the thirtysomething Peugeot 205, and the Hillman Imp, which hits its 50th this year.

Oh, and the classic everyone loves to hate. Believe it or not, but life begins at forty for the Austin Allegro!

If Churchill had lived long enough to see the launch and chequered career of BL's slightly misguided replacement for the 1100 I'm sure he'd have reused one of his greatest lines to sum it up. Never, in the field of automotive history, have so many urban myths been peddled by so many about one car.

There is, for starters, the one about it being more aerodynamic going backwards than forwards, which is true but only when you consider that lots of car which have those pesky air intakes and radiator grilles on the front have the same problem. There's also the persistent rumours in classic car land about wheels falling off and rear windscreens popping out, but this seems to be more down to a slim minority ending up in the hands of bad mechanics than any inherant design problems.

Yet none of these compare to the weirdest Allegro anecdote – an Allegrodote, if you will – of all. Apparently, the Allegro is banned from both of the Mersey tunnels because its chassis is too weak to cope with the prospect of being pulled out again in the event of a breakdown (something, which I know from personal experience of owning British Leyland cars, isn't that unlikely a prospect). A great story, but as far as a bit of Champion research has showed so far, it's cobblers.

In fact, if you look at the rules and regulations covering the Kingsway and Queensway Tunnels (and there are, if you're feeling a bit of an anorak and don't have much of a social life, a lot to leaf through) there is not a single mention of the Austin Allegro being banned, or any other make or model of car. If you have any hard evidence to the contrary that doesn't begin with the words 'rumour has it...' by all means feel free to send it in but otherwise I can say there is absolutely no evidence to suggest the Allegro is banned from the Mersey tunnels.

Weird, but true.

TO some, the idea of a dream holiday home may mean residing in a sunny climate abroad, but more people are realising North Wales has so much to offer. Beautiful beaches, captivating countryside or the calm pace of life... for many, North Wales is the ideal location to get away from it all.

Roy Kellett Caravans, Towyn, North Wales, will be holding a Caravan Holiday Home show on the weekend of the 9th and 10th March 2013 9am-5pm; for those people who want to own their own holiday home and take holidays time and time again across North Wales and Cheshire. Specialising in selling beautifully sculptured and affordable holiday homes (both new and preowned, two and three bedroom Caravans) onto caravan parks in North Wales and Cheshire; Roy Kellett Caravans provide the ideal dream holiday retreat.

Jenny adds, "As specialists in caravan holiday homes throughout North Wales we supply caravans onto parks you never knew existed, and whether you are looking for a caravan park near the beach or in the country, we have a large number of parks on offer to suit every taste, budget and holiday style. So come and see for yourself what caravans are on offer and the 100is of parks that we can recommend to you!"

Roy Kellet Caravans' Showground is based in Towyn, North Wales and features a large selection of both new and pre-owned holiday homes for you to view.

For anyone interested in finding out more about the idyllic life which could await in North Wales, main caravan manufacturer representatives and experienced advisors will also be on hand to offer any help or advice.

Skelmersdale and District Sunday League

Founder Cup semi–finals:
Toby 2, Kennelwood Butty Bar 3: It was the second half before Kennelwood went ahead from a penalty converted by Giblin. Toby hit back in the 70th minute when Judge levelled, before Morgan restored Kennelwood's lead five minutes later. Judge again levelled again after 84 minutes but man of the match Court scored a wonder goal from 35 yards to see his side into the final.

The Tanner 1 Hare & Hounds 3: Dale Sealey opened the scoring after 22 minutes with Ryan Wallace adding the second and Sealey adding his second just before half time to put Hares firmly in command. The second half saw Tanner play some fine football but Hares were always comfortable and despite a consolation goal from Adam Baker in the 67th minute they eased through to another final.

Another week on the road for Skem

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

TOMMY Lawson's Skelmersdale United will get very familiar with the various routes to Yorkshire over the next 10 days after they visit there three times during the period – with a difficult home game against Warrington Town in between.

The trips across 'The Tops' will have begun last night with a game at Harrogate Railway Athletic, but as usual we cannot tell you the result of that one.

What we do know, though, is that Tommy Lawson was due to include new signing Zac Aley among his number on the coach.

Zac is well known to Southport supporters, having started his career with the Sandgrounders and moved on to then FA Premier League, Blackburn Rovers. He has also played in the Football league for, among others, Morecambe so will be a very welcome and valuable addition to Skelmersdale's spirited squad of players.

Skem new boy Zac Aley

Saturday sees Warrington Town visit the West Lancashire College Stadium for a 3pm kick–off.

The Wire are managed by Shaun Reid, brother of former Everton, Manchester City and England midfielder, Peter. His more famous sibling is known to often take in Shaun's games so it's worth keeping an eye out for him.

Warrington have a group of experienced players and a potent strike force – including former Southport and Burscough marksman, Ciaran Kilheeney – so will not be taken lightly by Skelmersdale.

A Mark Jackson goal gave Skem a 1–0 win at Warrington back in January but it was a close affair and a repeat is expected again on Saturday.

The second trip to Yorkshire is to Ossett Albion next Tuesday (March 12) for a 7.45 kick–off.

Skem beat Albion at Stormy Corner back in September in a game that was marked by the competitive nature of the home side.

Albion are probably best described as young and hardworking, so again an interesting encounter awaits United in the land better known for its rhubarb sheds.

The third cross–Pennine trip is to Garforth Town on Saturday, March 16. There will more about that in next week's Champion.

Hughes' late goal keeps unbeaten home record intact

By Neil Leatherbarrow

Skelmersdale United 2
Goole 2

United were forced to dig deep as the visitors scored with their only two chances then clung onto a point and almost grabbed three.

That they did so was thanks to inspired goalkeeping, brave defending, a bit of luck and a centre forward in top form.

Goole took the lead with a Bill Law header from a free–kick. Josh Hine went close for Skem while Gary Burnett saw a shot scrape the post.

In the 27th minute a clumsy challenge on Kenny Strickland brought about a free–kick.

While Adam Morning's effort was blocked, he sent the rebound low into the goalmouth, Antony Hickey latched onto it, swivelled and put the ball low into the net.

In the 34th minute another free–kick was given on the left, as it was lifted in Skelmersdale's most reliable defender inexplicably slipped and hit the ground leaving Law to guide his now free header firmly into the corner of the net.

Just before the break Appleby made another great save from Hine and after the break he forced Burnett to shoot wide.

Appleby saved again, this time at Burnett's feet, before making a full length foil from the same player.

In the last ten minutes the Skem pressure became intense but Appleby made a superb diving save from a Phenix header and Evans went close with the rebound.

There was five minutes of added time and two minutes in Phenix shoulder–charged goalkeeper Appleby who had the ball in his hands.

There was then a five minute delay while Appleby got treatment to an ankle injury, and he was eventually he was replaced by Neale May, another goalkeeper.

After sixty seconds the ball was lifted into the box, there was an almighty scramble, Matty Hughes ran in from the right and despatched the ball low into the Goole net from 10 yards. for Skem to take a share of the points.

Linnets take home the points after quick smash and grab

Farsey 1
Burscough 2

TWO goals in three minutes were enough for Burscough to do a league double over Farsley and give the Yorkshire side's promotion push a big setback.

The Linnets gave Farsley a 5–1 hammering back in December, but it wasn't to be the case on Saturday when the home side struck first blood after 22 minutes, a corner by Shaun Maloney found Bambrook's head on the far post. Minutes later things would get worse the Burscough as Conor Roberts had to come off with a leg injury, although it was later confirmed to be not to be as serious as first thought.

The Greens started the second half once again under the cosh, the Farsley front line repeatedly threatened but with some impressive goalkeeping by Tim Horn.

Horn's good work was the turning point in the game and on after 69 minutes Burscough levelled. Some clever work by Jordan Williams saw him cut inside the Farsley defence and unleashed a thunderbolt which gave keeper Higginson no chance.

Then just three minutes later, with Farsley still stunned by the equaliser, they conceded again when Liam Caddick placed a curled effort from just inside the penalty area into the top corner to give the Greens a suprise lead

Farsley battled hard for a reply but with some more good defending, Burscough managed to complete the smash and grab raid to bring three points back to Lancashire.
